PINK ELEPHANT ALIGNS WITH NEW ACMP CERTIFICATION

Organizational Change Management Courses Approved Under Qualified Education Provider Program

Burlington, ON – May 16, 2016 – Pink Elephant, a premier global training, consulting and conference service provider, today announced that its Organizational Change Management Certification courses align with the requirements needed for the Association of Change Management Professionals’ (ACMP) brand new Certified Change Management Professional (CCMP) credential program.

In recognition of the growth in demand for change management services and the need for consistent adoption of change management practices, the ACMP has developed the CCMP designation, the first in a series of change management certifications designed to recognize the accomplishments of change professionals around the world.

Pink Elephant’s Organizational Change Management Foundation and Organizational Change Management Practitioner courses are approved under the ACMP’s Qualified Education Provider program, and help fulfil the 21 hours of instructor-led training in change management required for the CCMP application. Other requirements include education, experience, essay and exam.

“We’re very excited about the launch of the CCMP designation,” said Isabel Feher-Watters, Director, Leadership, Talent & Organizational Development, Pink Elephant. “Our Organizational Change Management portfolio closely aligns with the goals of the ACMP, and will help change managers take that big step towards attaining their CCMP status.”
